MWF 9:00 – 9:50

Description

Part-writing and analysis with an emphasis on chromatic harmony and modulation in European music of the eighteenth and nineteenth century.

Prerequisite

MUSI 213

Learning Outcomes

Through creative and analytical exercises, students will gain command of the chromatic materials of tonal music, with an emphasis upon late 18th - and 19th -century European or European-influenced compositions. The vocabulary will include: modulation, mode mixture, Neapolitan chords, augmented-sixth chords, altered dominants, enharmonic relationships, and chromatic and double-chromatic mediant relationships. Students will be able to describe how composers generated large-scale forms (binary, ternary, sonata) with unique characteristics using these materials as well as sophisticated developmental procedures. Students will be able to discuss all these materials, either orally or in a clearly argued essay. Students will also create a small-scale composition using chromatic materials. Most important, students will understand the complexity and the sophistication of qualitative musical judgments that underlie the creation of a masterwork.

Activities

Lectures, class discussions, assignments, analysis paper, composition, tests

Supplemental Materials

Analysis materials: Download from IMSLP Petrucci Library (www.imslp.org)

The instructor will place selected pieces on a listening list on Spotify. Students can get a free version of the software at spotify.com. The URL for the list will be posted on the D2L page for the course.

Learning Technologies

There is a D2L site for this course which contains required readings and other relevant class resources and materials (see d2l.ucalgary.ca).

Listening vs Electronic Devices

A complete understanding in any music course can only be accomplished through careful listening. Because listening requires awareness, attention and memory, laptops or any other electronic devices are not allowed in class except in the case of Academic Accommodations registered with the office of Student Accessibility Services (SAS).

Assignments

All assignments will be submitted as PDF files to the Dropbox on the D2L page for the course. In order to be on time, students will submit assignments to the Dropbox on the due date before 6:00 pm.

All assignments will be graded under the following conditions:

Submitted early (prior to 4:00 pm on the day before the due date)- as marked plus half a grade point (eg. B to B+)

Submitted on time - as marked

Submitted late by one week or less - as marked minus a grade point (eg. B+ to C+)

Illegible assignments will not be corrected or graded.

No assignments will be accepted after one week. Extensions will be granted for compellingly valid reasons (such as illness, etc). Contact the instructor in advance of the deadline to request an extension.

All assignments and tests will be marked according to the following criteria: accuracy, clarity and musicality. All exercises will require students to exercise musical judgment, based upon analytical evidence, and some will require students to use musical materials in a creative manner.

Fluency

Students will complete tests designed to ensure that they have a comprehensive knowledge of the vocabulary studied in the course. Fluency includes the ability to rapidly identify or generate harmonic structures, harmonic relationships, dissonance, and tendency-tones. It also includes the ability to rapidly solve short part-writing challenges. Time will always be a factor with these tests.

Plagiarism

Students are encouraged to discuss assignments with their colleagues with the aim of fully understanding the materials in the course. However, in the event that two or more students submit the same solutions to the questions on an assignment (where it is obvious that one person must have copied from another), both papers will all receive the grade of F and both students a warning. A repeat will be considered a contravention of the University's policy regarding Academic Integrity and will be reported to the Associate Dean, Faculty of Arts.

Analysis Paper

Topic to be announced in class. Students will generate a three-page essay (with additional pages for musical examples and diagrams) that takes an analytic point of view on the assigned music. In order to obtain a passing grade, the prose must be clear and comprehensible. Spelling and grammatical errors will negatively affect the grade. The paper will be written using a 12 pt Times or equivalent font and a 1.5 line space and submitted as a PDF file.

Composition

Two-minute (maximum) duet for a solo instrument and piano. If the solo instrument is voice, the part will be sung on an appropriate vowel (vocal). If the solo instrument is percussion, then it must be a keyboard percussion instrument. The composition will use the materials of the course in a manner described by the instructor in class. Students will receive a grade of A for this component of the course if they complete all of the following: submit a computer-realized score on the day of performance; have the piece performed in class; and, attend both of the classes when all of the compositions are performed. Failure to complete all three of these requirements will result in a grade of F.

NB: The parameters for the composition component are subject to change if the University requires Remote Learning to continue to the end of term.

Assessment

Assignments (weekly)	45%
Fluency Tests (2)	10%
Mid-Term Test	10%
Analysis Paper	10%
Composition	10%
Final Examination	15%

Guidelines for Zoom Sessions	Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a “live” video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community. To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission. The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to

	use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g. Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/. If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.). The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.
