Description

Survey of music in Canada from pre-European contact to the present, with an emphasis on the effect of geography and cultural diversity upon creation, performance, and reception.

Outcomes

Students will gain a broad understanding of the rich variety of musical activity that has occurred throughout the geographical region now called Canada including that of the indigenous peoples, the early European settlers, and later immigrants from the Americas, Europe, Asia and Africa. Students will gain an understanding of the ways in which both geographical features (landscape/soundscape) and cultural diversity have led to the creation and performance of a significant tradition of popular and refined music. Students will also gain an understanding of the effect of cultural and artistic institutions (education, presenting organizations, venues, funding agencies) upon the development of music in Canada.

Activities

Lectures, class discussions, listening tests, research papers, podcast creation

Listening

A complete understanding in any music course can only be accomplished through careful listening. NB Because listening requires awareness, attention and memory, laptops or any other electronic devices are not allowed in class.

Recordings

Sound recordings of the music discussed in class can be found in the following locations:

Canadian Music Centre national website – www.musiccentre.ca

Canadian Music Centre: Prairie Region – 3rd floor, TFDL

Audio Visual Collection – 1st floor, TFDL

Smithsonian Folkways Recordings (folkways.si.edu)

For the listening tests, the instructor will try to find sources for free streaming online. However, students will be required to purchase some selections from Smithsonian Folkways Recordings or iTunes (never more than $.99 per selection)

Text:

Keillor, Music in Canada

Assessment:

Listening tests	(3 @ 10%)	30%
Projects		60%
Research papers	(2@20%)
Podcast	(20%)
Self-assessment		10%

The projects (research papers and the podcast) will be graded under the following conditions:

Submitted early (prior to 4:00pm on the day before the due date) - as marked plus half a grade point (eg. B to B+)

Submitted on time - as marked

Submitted late by one week or less - as marked minus a grade point (eg. B+ to C+)

No project will be accepted after one week. Extensions will be granted for compellingly valid reasons (such as illness, etc). Contact the instructor in advance of the deadline. To be considered on time, research papers must be submitted in class or before 4:00 in the SCPA office (CH D100) on the due date. Instructions for the submission of the podcast will be provided in class.

Dates

October 5	Listening test 1
October 15	Research paper 1
November 2	Listening test 2
November 19	Research paper 2
November 26-30	Lecture recitals (times and days TBD – presented by MUSI 533)
December 3	Podcast
December 5	Listening test 3
December 7	Self-evaluation

Projects

All of the projects will discuss a piece of music, a musician (composer, performer) or a performing organization (ensemble, concert society) through the critical lens of the two primary themes for the course (landscape & diversity) as well as any appropriate secondary themes introduced in the lectures. The appendices in the text are a good source for topics.

The research papers will be three-pages (12 pt font, 1.5 spacing) of clear prose. The podcasts will have a duration of 20 minutes, including spoken discussion about and recorded performance of the music, musician or organization.

Research paper 1: Pre-contact to pre-Confederation (1866) – the paper will focus on one of the following – indigenous music, folk music, or refined music

Research paper 2: Confederation (1867) to Centennial (1967) – the paper will focus on popular music or refined music chosen from Appendix J of the text

Podcast: Contemporary music (1980 to the present): the podcast will focus on either the popular or refined music chosen from Appendix J of the text, or topic approved in advance by the instructor (for music from 2006 to the present).

Midterm and final examination scheduling	Final examinations may be scheduled at any time during the examination period (December 10-20 for Fall 2018; Apr. 15-27 for Winter 2019); students should therefore avoid making prior travel, employment, or other commitments for this period. If a student is unable to write an exam through no fault of his or her own for medical or other valid reasons, documentation must be provided and an opportunity to write the missed exam may be given. Students are encouraged to review all examination policies and procedures: ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred_final
Deferrals of exams/term work	It is possible to request a deferral of term work or final examinations for reasons of illness, accident, family or domestic affliction, or religious obligations. Please check with your advisor if any of these issues make it impossible for you to sit an exam or finish term work by stated deadlines. ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred_final ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-6.html ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-7.html
Academic accommodation	Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS); SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf
Academic integrity, plagiarism	The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are referred to the section on plagiarism in the University Calendar (ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-3.html; ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-5.html) and are reminded that plagiarism—using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it—is an extremely serious academic offence. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or the Student Success Centre (TFDL 3rd Floor) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.

Internet and electronic communication device	elearn.ucalgary.ca/category/d2l/ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/emergency-instructions/uc-emergency-app The in-class use of computers may be approved by your Instructor. Cell phones and other electronic communication devices should be silenced or turned off upon entering the classroom. If you violate the Instructor's policy regarding the use of electronic communication devices in the classroom, you may be asked to leave the classroom; repeated abuse may result in a charge of misconduct. No audio or video recording of any kind is allowed in class without explicit permission of the Instructor. SCPA Claim Your Seat Program: Student Guidelines	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The Claim Your Seat (CYS) program allows all University of Calgary students to attend on-campus School of Creative and Performing Arts (Dance, Drama and Music) events free of charge. 2. Depending on the performance, there is a limited number of seats available for CYS. There is not a guarantee that tickets will be available for all CYS patrons for every performance, based on audience size, demand, etc. 3. CYS tickets are a privilege. If a student receives a ticket to attend a performance, it is expected that they will respect the value of the admission and attend the performance. 4. Process for students: On the date of the performance, from the time the Box Office opens until 15 minutes prior to the performance start time, students should find the UTS staff member with an iPad and show their UCID card to print their CYS ticket. If students arrive after 15 minutes prior to the performance start time, they can also go to the Box Office and purchase a ticket at the student rate. Students should not go to the Box Office unless they are purchasing a ticket. 5. they can find a UTS staff member with an iPad and get their CYS ticket from them. 6. If students have a course requirement to attend a performance for a specific date, access to the tickets will be communicated by the instructor to University Theatre Services prior to the event. The best guarantee for a free ticket is to arrive early, up to 45 minutes prior to the performance start time. 7. Respect for the Front of House and theatre staff, performers and fellow patrons is an absolute requirement. Failure to comply with this will lead to being asked to leave the venue and could result in the revoking of CYS privileges.

Letter of permission	If you wish to study at another institution while registered at the U of C, you must have a letter of permission. You can submit your request through your Student Centre at MyUofC. Students must have the Letter of Permission before they take the course at another school. Failure to prepare may result in no credit awarded and could result in suspension from the faculty.
Course outlines for transfer credit	It is possible that you will be asked for copies of this outline for credit transfers to other institutions or for proof of work done. It is the student's responsibility to keep these outlines and provide them to employers or other universities when requested. Please ensure that outlines of all the courses you take are kept in a safe place for your future reference. Departments/Programs do not guarantee that they will provide copies.
