COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES	MUSI 231 is a multimedia survey course exploring the history and development of musical thought and practice in Europe during the Middle Ages and Renaissance, and the socio-historical contexts that helped shape them. Class discussions will center on a survey of significant genres, styles, composers, and works. In addition to providing students with an in-depth look at a fascinating period which gave rise to many of western music's most enduring traditions, this course will introduce students to the concepts, criteria and methods pertaining to the study of music history. In-class analyses of works will offer students a means of tracing and evaluating significant changes in musical trends. Lectures, class discussions, readings, and assignments will encourage the development of an appropriate musical vocabulary and provide a forum for intelligent discussion. A research workshop and group presentation will introduce students to fundamental research techniques and correct bibliographic skills.

It is the student's responsibility to keep these outlines and provide them to employers or other universities when requested. Please ensure that outlines of all the courses you take are kept in a safe place for your future reference. Departments/Programs do not guarantee that they will provide copies.
DEFERRALS OF EXAMS/TERM WORK	It is possible to request a deferral of term work or final examinations for reasons of illness, accident, family or domestic affliction, or religious obligations. LETTER OF PERMISSION	If you wish to study at another institution while registered at the U of C, you must have a letter of permission. You can submit your request through your Student Centre at MyUofC. Students must have the Letter of Permission before they take the course at another school. Failure to prepare may result in no credit awarded and could result in suspension from the faculty.
PLAGIARISM	Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. For details see the University of Calgary Calendar. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or the Student Success Centre (TFDL 3 rd Floor) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.
