Day(s),time(s) and location of Class	Tuesday January 2 through Saturday January 6, 2018 / 9am-4:30pm CHE 004
Learning resources: required readings, textbooks and materials	Systems will be drawn from the repertoire of the following companies and artists: Public Recordings (ON), Theatre Replacement (BC), Civilized Theatre (ON), Kaeja d’Dance (ON), Deborah Hay (US), Toronto Dance Theatre (ON), The Forsythe Company (GE), Leaky Heaven Performance Society (BC), and Cornelius Cardew (UK) among other composers of aleatory or indeterminate music. Archival sound and video recordings will be shared in class. Relevant articles and archival materials such as interviews, grant texts, reviews, performance texts, and production notes will be uploaded to D2L prior to class start. Articles on concepts, practices, and tools that relate to and contextualize performance generating systems will also be uploaded to D2L. Most of these materials should be read prior to January 2, so please refer to the listings in the course schedule for instructions.
Prerequisites	The course has been designed for advanced drama, dance, and music students. Experience and training is only needed in one of these disciplines though we will make good use of additional, interdisciplinary skills.
Course description	Performance generating systems are rule- or task-based dramaturgies that systematically set in motion a process of theatre, dance, or music creation in front of an audience. The resulting performance is not generated from the performers’ impulses, as in other forms of improvisation, but rather from the ways in which a system affects the performers’ memory, perception, and interaction. The performance does also not realize a script or repeat a score; instead of setting and rehearsing a compositional order, the systems challenge performers to respond to specific tasks in the moment and within constraints. The dramaturgical work with these systems necessitates a sharp shift in orientation from compositional possibilities to the question of which kinds of creative interaction and patterns a system attracts. Over the course of an intense week, we will examine three dance-, music-, and theatre-generating systems. Working through the systems one by one, we will watch archival recordings, read discussions of practice that can help us examine them, and analyse how they work. Building significant, embodied knowledge onto this academic and dramaturgical foundation, we will test the systems in accessible and practical workshops and in daily 45 min. practice sessions, scheduled at each student’s convenience, throughout January and February. Within the block week, students will also be tasked to develop a simple, yet generating, system of their own.

Course learning outcomes	By the completion of this course, successful students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Identify the generating principles of performance systems</li> <li>2. Discuss how they challenge, advance, or depart from common improvisation approaches with reference to key notions such as presence, modes of perception, notation.</li> <li>3. Examine and understand how they generate performance in practice</li> <li>4. Adapt them and/or develop principles towards a new performance system</li> <li>5. Articulate them in class performances and in the form of a performance recipe</li> </ol>
Course schedule	Tuesday Jan 2: Concepts, Performance Systems, and Futuring Memory          Wednesday Jan 3: Theatre Systems and the Rule Play          Thurs Jan 4: Aleatory and Indeterminate music composition and The Great Learning (taught by Valentina Bertolani).          Friday Jan 5: Hay and House’s Dance Score and Practice Systems          Saturday Jan 6: Supervised Student Creation and Research          Monday January 8 to Friday February 23: 4 days of 45 min weekly praxis and one weekly observation posting
Assessment components	Students will each be asked to contribute in the following ways: Participation. Preparation, effort, attention, and contribution / weight 25% Assignment 1. Posting of observations on D2L during the block week and the praxis weeks / weight 20% Assignment 2. In-class group creation and research / weight 25% (on Jan 6) Assignment 3. Performance recipe/notation and reflection (max. 1200 words) / Weight 30% (due March 9 at midnight).
Assessment expectations	Guidelines for Submitting Assignments          Please submit all assignments on D2L Expectations for Writing:          Writing skills are important to academic study across all disciplines. Consequently, instructors may use their assessment of writing quality as a factor in the evaluation of student work. Please refer to the Undergraduate Calendar E.2 Writing Across the Curriculum policy for details. Guidelines for Formatting Assignments          Assignment 3 must adhere to the MLA or Chicago guidelines for references and citations and will be marked with attention to length limitations, style, grammar, and spelling. Remember to proofread carefully and stay within the word limit of each assignment. Late Assignments          3% will be deducted per day for late submissions and they will not be accepted after 7 days. Requests for extension or special consideration must be emailed or brought to your teacher in class prior to the deadline or class they concern. Documented health issues or conflicts with other course deadlines count among acceptable reasons. Expectations for Attendance and Participation:          It is expected that students attend all classes, read all of the assigned materials prior to each class, and meet up prepared for the workshop when prep has been assigned. It is also expected that students read all materials for the first three classes prior to Jan 2 in order to ensure that evening prep during the block week becomes manageable. It is furthermore expected that all students complete 45 minutes of practice, 4 days per week for 7 weeks after the block week – individually or with partners.

	Please do also refer to the Undergraduate Calendar E.3 Attendance for details.

Academic integrity, plagiarism	The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are referred to the section on plagiarism in the University Calendar (ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-5.html) and are reminded that plagiarism—using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it—is an extremely serious academic offence. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or the Student Success Centre (TFDL 3rd Floor) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.
